I must admit I have allowed myself to be somewhat influenced by the advertisement industry when it comes to preparing for a hunt. I have been persuaded to purchase camouflage guns, bows, pants, shirts, coats, face masks, boots, backpacks, and hats in an attempt to become undetectable while sitting in my deer stand.

I have also purchased scent lures that were supposed to have the power to draw bucks into shooting range, and I have purchased products designed to eliminate any odors that would frighten deer away.

I have bought just about everything that promised to make me a better hunter but I have learned that none of these products can make my hunting trips successful if I cannot sit still and be quiet while in my deer stand. Not only must I be still and quiet if I hope to take a deer home, I must be still and quiet to fully experience all the sights and sounds that make every hunt unique and special. Some things can only be properly experienced while you are being still.

I will also admit that one of the challenges I face in my walk of faith is to simply be still and quiet in the midst of temptations, tests, and trials so that I might properly acknowledge God and clearly hear His Word. Sometimes after I pray according to the will of God and make bold faith professions according to His promises, I find myself failing to take my rest in those promises. It is at this point that I have to take charge of my emotions by reminding myself that God is in charge, and my part is to trust and obey.

Sometimes in fear, I get busy doing things that are really none of my business. This type of "busyness" interferes with the faith process because it is not of faith. I have learned, and am still learning, that when it is time to be still and know that God is God, all else is in vain.

Good News Club

by Bruce Kennedy

For the past several years New Hope Ministries has sponsored a Good News Club at Calusa Park Elementary School. This year's club had over 80 children registered and over 50 attending each week. With eleven adult volunteers we split the group in half, making a kindergarten and first grade group and a 2nd to 5th grade group.

We use curriculum from Child Evangelism Fellowship, and the classes consist of praise and worship, prayer, a lesson, and a review game. The younger group has had occasional puppet shows, and the older group had what we call "The God Can." The children had the opportunity to write down their prayer requests and put them in "The God Can." Each request is prayed over at the end of class. Of great concern for many of the children was a teacher who was in a car accident with injuries on Easter Sunday. One girl has asked for prayer for her parents to get their "green card" so they can go back to their home country and visit her older sister.

Some of the children attend church regularly. However, a large number have no church home, and we encourage both the children and their parents to come visit NHM. Many are already looking forward to Kidzfest this June.

We are grateful to the Collier

County School Board and Calusa Park Elementary School for allowing us to come every Tuesday and offer this club. We are also thankful to the parents for allowing us to spend time with their children and teach them the Word of God.

We love the enthusiasm of the children, especially those who make it a point to show off the Bibles they have proudly brought to the club. One girl in the older group brought in a huge book of Bible stories and insisted on reading one of the stories to the class. She pointed out that this book had been in her family for many years and was valued, not only for its content, but for its great age as well. Upon examination, it was noted the book was published in 1971! I guess to a 9 year old, 43 years is very old!

Good News Club is over now for this school year, but we are eagerly looking forward to next year's club. We are in need of additional adult volunteers as we've been asked to start a second club in Golden Gate City. Anyone interested in volunteering may contact Pastor Steve McGraw at the church office.

NHSM Graduates: Where Are They Now?

1993 Graduate: Michael Sedgwick

Since graduating from the School of Ministries, the Lord has led me to continue studying His Word diligently. It's been my privilege to teach the New Testament Survey course for 19 years and the Old Testament Survey course for 22 years. I've also taught Biblical Doctrines during the past four school years. My passion is to teach many biblical basics as well as many concepts in the Word of God that are often misunderstood.

As a teacher, I try to emphasize practical life applications of spiritual truths. Understanding the lives of Bible characters can have a profound effect on the daily lives of believers. The events in the Bible illustrate many spiritual principles and methods God uses to develop our character, to prepare us for ministry and to fulfill His will in our lives. Understanding sound Biblical doctrines can also prevent believers from being deceived by false teachings.

Although I started studying the Book of Revelation in 1978, it was not until 2003 that I was led to start writing a book entitled Revelation Made Easy.

One of the highlights of my spiritual life was touring Israel in 2013. To walk where Jesus walked and to visit places that many people in the Bible visited or lived was thrilling. Spiritually speaking, for me this experience was second only to receiving the Baptism in the Holy Spirit.

1996 Graduate: Seth J. Elbe

I began singing at New Hope Ministries when I was 14 years old and served in the Worship Department for more than 10 years.

I also met my wife, Sara, at NHM and we married in November 2002. We have been blessed with two children: a 9 year old daughter, Kamdyn, and son, Jones, who is 6.

My family and I currently live in Tyler, Texas, where I have served as Executive & Worship Pastor at New Life Worship Center for the past 3 years. I've written over 100 praise & worship songs and just released a second CD project: Anthem: The Sound of the House (available through iTunes-New Life Worship Center).

The in-depth principles taught about studying God's Word was one of the highlights and favorite topics I learned at NHSM and still apply to my daily walk with the Lord. My testimony is of the faithfulness of God's promises, and I encourage everyone to live by my favorite Scripture: Proverbs 3:5&6 "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him and He will direct your path."

1997 Graduates: Josh and Kristine Perez

Josh and I were dating when we signed up to attend the NHSM. We were 18 and 19 years old, and together we committed to grow under the anointed teaching and leadership of our instructors. We learned, matured, and changed. We even got engaged!

We served everywhere God opened the doors. We were married soon after graduating, and a year and a half later Josh accepted a pastoral internship at NHM. After his ordination, we served together in ministry for 10 years until we felt the call to new places.

Leaving was not easy. We loved our church home, but the stirring wouldn't stop and in 2009 a church (Livewire) of our own was born.

What started in Starbucks as a bible study with twelve people is now church in a movie theater with approximately 150 attending every Sunday.

Our ministry consists of a Sunday morning service, weekly connection groups, a prayer ministry, a youth ministry, a children's ministry, counseling, and missions. Outreach is a huge part of our focus and we constantly organize events like handing out free burgers on the beach, free car washes, and flowers in the park on Mother's Day weekend.

We are committed to introducing His love to our city in very unique and sometimes radical ways, as we seek out those who have never even considered a relationship with Jesus Christ. Recently we had the privilege of leading a young lady to the Lord. Never in her life had she stepped foot in a church. Two Sundays later Josh baptized her at the beach while she beamed from ear to ear - her husband and two children standing at her side. She said, "I've finally found what I've been looking for all my life."

Thank you NHSM for equipping us! You are the foundation we stand upon today, and we know that the best is yet to come!

Healed!

Testimony of Kenia Pollara

The doctor looked at my mammogram and said three times, "I see brightness all around your breasts."

Jesus is light and life and it was His touch, His healing power, that had melted away four or five painful lumps in my breasts.

Teachers from the Sunday morning Healing Class were invited to teach a healing class at the NHSM. It was one of the final Monday night classes for the 2014-15 school year and I would be graduating within a few weeks. During the class I was reminded of the authority I have as a child of God, over sickness and disease.

I was scheduled to have a mammogram on Wednesday and I was really dreading it. My first test, a Breast Specific Gamma Imaging (BSGI) had been performed in 2012. Hard lumps had developed after I stopped breast feeding my son and my doctor was concerned. The test was extremely painful, as was the follow-up in 2013. Even the ultrasound was painful, so I skipped the test in 2014. Now it's 2015 and my doctor is insistent.

On Tuesday evening, the dread I felt was so intense that I was prepared to tell them I was in too much pain, so they would postpone the appointment. That's when I was prompted by the Holy Spirit to anoint myself with oil and pray. I began, "God, please don't let there be any pain when I have this test." For the next thirty minutes I continued praying and seeking His wisdom. I then began to repeat, "God, melt these lumps, in the name of Jesus," and as I did so I felt them get smaller and smaller. They just melted away as I prayed!

Thank you, Jesus! Your death on the cross paid for my sins and your healing work has already been accomplished! All we are required to do is believe and receive our salvation and healing.

They [the lumps] just melted away as I prayed!

Everyday I see patients who could possibly die tomorrow. I take every opportunity to encourage them; to talk to them about Jesus and pray with them, if they wish, before the doctor sees them. Now, I have another wonderful testimony of God's healing power to share with them.

The doctor I work with is not (yet) a believer, but I have shared my testimony and believe that it's just a matter of time...

The Healing Class meets every Sunday, at 9:00am, in the Ministry Center, Rm. 207.

What does it mean to be an American?

by Linda Sadler

To me it means: Pride, thankfulness, freedom to travel, live, worship, and speak freely.

My story begins in Bermuda, where I was born. My family and I lived there until 1965, at which time we were "called" to the United States of America. I am proud of my heritage and, even though I graduated from high school in Naples, married and raised three boys here, I had no real desire to give up my Bermuda citizenship.

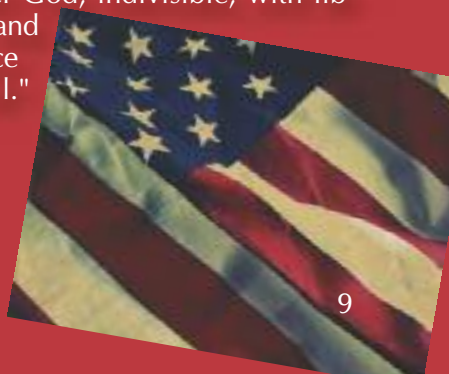

September 11, 2001, had a huge impact on me and I determined that it was time to make a change. On May 10, 2004, I was sworn in as an American citizen. For some time I'd had the desire to vote and I love this privilege above all. I do believe MY vote CAN make a difference. I don't like hearing people ask, "What difference does my vote make?"

Besides the right to vote, we Americans have many other wonderful freedoms given to us, if we choose to recognize and use them. We have the freedom to worship where and whom we desire. This should be something that all people in America take advantage of! Unfortunately many only turn to the local church and God when they are in need. I was working in the New Hope Ministries office the week of 9/11 and remember how many people flocked to the church wanting answers to the tragic happenings of that day. Many who came were first time visitors. It's awesome that we live in a country that allows our church doors to be open at all times.

We also have the freedom to travel freely within our own state, and from state to state, and take in the beauty of God's creation. We are free to be thankful - out loud - for His magnificent handiwork all around us. It's comforting to know that the words "Thank you, Father" can be spoken freely and openly, without any fear or worry that our words could put us in jail.

Being an American means that each year on Memorial Day we are free to remember the men and women who have given their lives for that freedom. Every Veterans Day we are free to celebrate all those who have served in the military, and on Independence Day (July 4th) we may gather freely, without fear, with family and friends to commemorate the 1776 adoption of the Declaration of Independence. "...One Nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Jail Ministry

by Nicole Ketcham

New Hope Ministries has many different types of outreach programs. One is the Collier County Jail Ministry. There are five of us that visit the women in jail every Saturday at 1:00pm. Let me give a shout out to Sherry, Cindy, Brenda and Barbara! Each of us has a different style of teaching, so we alternate each week. This gives the women a variety, yet the foundation of Jesus Christ is unwavering.

A question that I often hear is: "Aren't you scared to go into the jail?" My answer to that is, "Nope! Not even a little bit!" (The other members of this ministry will agree with me on that.) I tell them, "It's scarier going out into the world some days than it is going into the jail."

The women we meet are hungry for change. They have come to the point that there is nowhere else to look but up. They want to come hear the Word of God. They sign up to attend on their own. They are open to receive. They are precious women, and sometimes I wonder how they ended up in there. We never ask their offense because we would never want our human judgement to get in the way of showing the love of Jesus Christ. These women are people just like everyone else. They are beautifully broken while they are in there, and it's an honor to be able to encourage them and teach them about who they are in Christ and how much they are loved by the King of Kings.

Attendance averages 15 ladies each week. Sometimes more, sometimes less, and we are seeing 4 or 5 salvations each week! It's absolutely amazing! But the ministry does not stop there. Eventually the girls will get out, and we always invite them to New Hope and tell them to come find us. This is where you, as the church body, can help out. We all need to be available to help people get back on their feet. We are not enablers, but we are encouragers. If someone is truly seeking the things of God, then we need to be available to them. Whether just in prayer or making relationships, and opening ourselves up to them.

If you are interested in ministering in the jail, please inquire about the process to get involved. It is a true blessing to be a part of this ministry

Isaiah 61 and Luke 4:18-19: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He has anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted,[a] to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed;"

NHM Event/ Ministry Center

The Event/Ministry Center is available for many different types of activities. Over the past 12 months several wedding receptions have been held in the facility.

Additionally, there have been local trade shows, a doll show, quilt show, baby showers, a karate exhibition, concerts, various seminars, Lifeline Screenings, and even a wedding ceremony.

Currently the gymnasium is being rented weekly for volleyball; during the summer months there is "open gym." The Harvest Recovery Group meets upstairs every Friday evening. The food pantry is open on Tuesday & Thursday mornings. All The King's Men meet weekly in the dining room. The New Hope School of Ministries meets in the lecture hall twice weekly from August to May. Classrooms are utilized for a number of classes on Sunday morning, and groups on Friday evenings.

The facilities are used for a variety of events: special speakers, Family Fun Days (Easter & Labor Day), Annual Valentine's Dinner, Mother's Day Brunch, Annual Motorcycle Rally, Annual Hunting Banquet, Annual Fishing Banquet, Annual Fall Fest, Seder Dinner, Boys' Campout, Volunteer Appreciation Dinner, Family and Classic Movie Nights, New Members' Dinner, many Heart2Heart women's events, and a voting precinct.

The full service commercial kitchen is utilized for the events listed above and for our weekly dinners on Wednesday nights. Recently Chef Brian and his volunteers were busy in the kitchen preparing food for the church outreach to the Collier County Fair workers, Barron Collier teachers, and last summer, the teachers at Calusa Park Elementary.

If you, or someone you know, is interested in pricing and availability of the facility, please contact the church office.

Operation Shoebox/ Marion Zirkle Children's Foundation

This ministry blesses thousands of children each year around Christmas time with a shoebox full of needed items: comb, hairbrush, toothbrush, coloring book and crayons, pencils, pens, note pads, socks, hair items, and a toy or a gift according to the age and gender of the child.

You can be a part of this blessing by purchasing items or giving a donation. Items may be dropped off at NHM in June; the cutoff will be Sunday, July 12.

The Hem of His Garment

by Teresa Rahaim

One year ago, I was diagnosed with breast cancer. I knew something was wrong, of course, but had no idea it was stage 4! When the reality of the situation had settled into the rational part of my brain, I decided that I should just let go and let whatever would happen, happen. I had seen so many people try to fight this particular demon over my 30+ years in healthcare and only one person I knew of had survived. She had been healed at the little holiness church I had attended as a young adult.

Tony, my husband, was devastated by my diagnosis and maybe a little from my reaction - giving up. So, I told my oncologist to hit it with the biggest poison she had in her arsenal. She did. For five months I underwent chemotherapy and it did seem to be working, but what was the root cause? I've always felt disease was evil in its very nature. I remembered the sweet little lady from my youth that had been healed by the laying on of hands; my hands were involved then too. I had "backslid" so far away from my loving God that I didn't know if I could be heard - until I recognized who was speaking to me. I told my husband that I wanted to find a church, a real church, not one that sugarcoats the Word.

I found NHM online and listened to a few of Pastor Grant's sermons. Boy did I ever recognize that holiness inflection in his tone and style! Adding to that, NHM even has its own healing class. So, we started attending church and I went to a healing class. Ron Arevalo was the leader that day. Someone sitting near me inquired as to my reason for being there and I guess I was rather loud when I responded with my diagnosis. Ron asked if he could pray for me. Well, yes, of course! There were approximately 15 people in class and they joined Ron. I closed my eyes and strangely (maybe not) I envisioned my body lying flat on sandy ground. I saw my hand reaching for the hem of the garment on the man in front of me, with his back to me. But, it wasn't a man, obviously. I was literally living the Word of God. I saw myself as the woman who reached for Jesus' hem, knowing that if she could just touch it, she would be healed.

My faith swelled inside me so large that I don't think I could ever doubt who He is or what He has done for me. I am healed and cancer free! Now it's my turn to do this for others in His name.

A Gold Tooth

by Kristine Perez,
1997 Graduate of NHSM

He had almost walked right by me when he turned around and extended his hand. I'm pretty sure he was there visiting a loved one.

I was weaving through a manicured pathway of climbing pink bougainvillea and bright green palms on my way to a lunch break that I was counting the seconds for. Usually I enjoyed the walk, but today—okay, the last couple of months—had been an emotional battle, to say the least, and I was entertaining the idea of not returning to work. I wanted to run away. Unintentional distress signals must have been blaring from my face. I was usually good at hiding them, and there he was - the signal-seeker. This gray-haired man, pensively walking up the pathway like most of the visitors I'd frequently seen at the retirement community I worked at, about to pass me by. But this time the visitor stopped.

"Excuse me," he said as he turned around in his tracks. Raising my eyebrows with a forced half-smile I looked into his eyes, trying to both hide my emotions and gather what he was about to say. He was fidgeting a little. As I curiously waited, he reached into his side pocket and pulled out a small object, which he quickly placed in my hand. Confused and taken off guard, and trying to process the awkwardness of this whole encounter midst heavy work emotions, I stared down at a seashell in the shape of a front tooth. A large white front buck tooth. It was creatively glued onto a square magnet. Painted on top of the shell were two googlie eyes, a round red nose, and one protruding, sparkling gold tooth gleaming in a row of white ones.

"I search for seashells on the beach," he said, "and I make these little magnets.

Then I give them to people who might need a smile."

My obvious captivation by that colorful magnet was all this man needed as he quietly, and knowingly, carried on his way. As I slowly turned back toward the parking lot, looking into those two googlie eyes, tears stung my own. You know how you can kind of stop tears from falling sometimes because you don't want anyone to see you cry? Well, that didn't happen. All the way to my car they streamed down and I held that magnet in my hand and stared into the most significantly goofy little gift I had ever received. It was a turning point. The tears that would have painfully fallen moments earlier were now pouring in relief.

Someone knew. Someone saw. Someone cared.

Who was he? I don't know if he was a CEO, a truck driver or a retired grandfather. What I do know is that he made me smile and I was thankful. I was thankful for a man who had an idea to scan beaches for seashells and paint them with googlie eyes and gold teeth.

I think of people with dreams and ideas they feel are too silly and insignificant to offer the world.

has been on my kitchen fridge, and every time I look at it I'm thankful that a man walking on a beach saw more than just a seashell, and I am thankful that a man on a winding white pathway saw more than just a girl walking to her car. I am thankful that he cared enough to look at me not only with eyes of concern, but with a couple of googlie ones, too. I am convinced that the person he was visiting that day was me.

Just for people like me.

I think of all the people with dreams and ideas that they feel are too silly and insignificant to offer the world. Those who wonder if seashells and magnets and some simple strokes of a paintbrush can make a difference. The thing is, that day I could have traveled as far as Rome and endlessly gazed up at Michelangelo's renowned and vast splendor, but what I needed was a pocket-sized gift from a stranger and the artistry of two googlie eyes.

God's gifts are intentional. Our abilities aren't random, and our encounters aren't without reason. Whether we paint ceilings in Rome or brush color on tiny square magnets, God's wonder and miracles exist in each.

I didn't get a chance to look, but I bet that man had a shiny gold tooth.

For twelve years that magnet

NHM Board of Directors

Pastor Grant Thigpen is the President of the NHM Board of Directors. Of course everyone at our church (and beyond) knows who he is and what he looks like. The other four members spend a lot of time working behind the scenes, so we thought it would be nice to tell you a little bit about them and show you photos.

Dan Brett, Vice President, has attended NHM since October of 1990 and accepted a position on the Board in 1992, when asked by Pastor Grant.

After moving to Naples in 1972, Dan later met Naples native, Debbie Collier, and they married in 1977. Together they raised three beautiful daughters and have 8 grandchildren, with another due to arrive in June.

Dan is the President of J.P. Brett and Sons, Inc., a family owned heating and cooling company that has been in business since 1975.

Dan also serves NHM as the head of our Parking Lot Team, and as an usher and security.

Les Giles, Secretary, has been attending NHM since 1991. Ten years ago, after a great deal of prayer, he accepted Pastor's invitation to serve on the Board.

Although he is not a native of Naples, he has lived here for thirty-three years. In June, Les will have completed his thirty-third year as an English teacher at Barron Collier High School.

Les and Cindy married in 2000. He is the father of three, and has one amazing granddaughter. Les has been playing the Saxophone at NHM since 2003.

Les says, "I serve at NHM because I want to see the body of Christ grow. I want the body to be better because I am an active member, and I have learned to love people and see them as Jesus wants me to see them. I want every life I touch to be better than it was before we met. My daily goal is to preach the gospel by doing."

Michael Sedgwick, Director, has attended NHM since 1990, and has served on the Board for the past four and a half years.

After graduating from Evangel University in 1974, he married Kay and they moved to Naples that same year. During the past 41 years, Michael has held various supervisory and administrative positions in state government in South West Florida. He has also taught in the New Hope School of Ministries for the past 22 years. Michael says: "As a biblical teacher, I try to emphasize practical life applications of spiritual truths."

Michael first started serving at New Hope as an usher. He and his wife have also served on the altar ministry.

Michael says, "As a board member, my appreciation has expanded for the wisdom and insight displayed by Pastor Grant and the other directors. We take our responsibilities very seriously as we try to follow Christ and make decisions as led by the Holy Spirit."

Michael and Kay have two adult children: Jeremy and Kayla.

Eddie Guevara, Director, began attending NHM in 1998. He was appointed to the Board in November 2014.

Roughly a year before, in 2013, the Lord had spoken to Eddie about the possibilities of being on the Board. He didn't pursue it further until August of 2014, when Pastor Grant asked if he would consider it. Without hesitation he immediately agreed, knowing this was where the Lord wanted him to be.

Eddie says, "As a board member, I am honored to be part of a group of men who have wisdom, and who prayerfully seek the Lord for the guidance/direction necessary for our church."

"My desire is for our church to know, believe and be true followers of Christ - to have a lifestyle that represents Christ at all times. Also, my heart is for NHM to reach out from our four walls and share the love of Christ to others as one body."

Eddie moved from New Jersey to Naples 1979. He and Kathleen were married in September of 2000. They home school 10 year old, Kendra, and Isaac, age 8.

Eddie is a soundboard operator during NHM services and at special events, and he and Kathleen lead "2 to 1." He has been the Operations Manager at Kelly Roofing since 2004.
